Exolon® AR FO

Solid polycarbonate sheet with flexible hardcoat

5 years warranty against delamination and transmission loss

Product definition

Exolon® AR FO sheets with surface protection on one or both sides for improved abrasion.

Scope of warranty

Exolon® AR FO solid sheets are guaranteed for 5 years against delamination and light transmission loss for indoor applications.

Warranty statements

Exolon® AR FO retains its light transmission

This means that the sheets will have a transmittance after 5 years which is not more than 7% lower than at the time of delivery. The transmittance is measured on clean, unscratched specimens according to DIN 5036.

2. Exolon® AR FO retains its abrasion resistance

This means that within a period of 5 years no delamination will occur between the scratch resistant layer and the base polycarbonate sheet, which can be recognized by naked eye.

Note

The specimen thickness must be between 3 and 4 mm. The specimen surfaces, obtained by mechanical treatment, need to be smooth and polished.

Conditions of warranty

Exolon® AR FO sheets

- must be stored, transported, fabricated and installed (or used) in a manner that suits the material,
- must not be (adversely) affected by connecting, fixing and/or sealing elements,
- must be protected against the adverse influences of chemicals
- must be installed indoors, away from direct sunlight
- must not be cold curved to a radius below 200 times the sheet thickness
- in case the sheet is formed, it must be formed according to the guidelines stated on the Exolon® AR FO datasheet
